1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-60, drawn to a method of molding, classified in class 156, subclass ?.
- II. Claims 61-73, drawn to a molding apparatus, classified in class 156, subclass ?.
- III. Claims 74-132, drawn to footwear, classified in class 36, subclass 83.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method could be practiced without a drawing device with apertures and/or without a recessed area as required by the apparatus.

3. Inventions group I and Group III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process could be used to make any molded article such as hats, toys, packaging inserts, seat cushions, etc..

4. Inventions group II and group III are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case the apparatus can be used to make other articles such as hats, toys, packaging inserts, seat cushions, etc..

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, or Group III and vice versa, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. If applicant elects Group III (it is noted that the other 2 groups of inventions may have species also, but these classes are not the current Examiners expertise and such a species election would be left to the Examiner in those classes if applicant elects one of them), This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

A. The footwear article shown in figures 8A, B, and C.

B. The footwear article shown in figure 9A

C. The footwear article shown in figure 9B.

D. The footwear article shown in figures 10A and 10B.

- E. The footwear article shown in figures 10C and D.
- F. The footwear article shown in figures 11A, B, and C.
- G. The footwear article shown in figures 11A, B, and D.
- H. The footwear article shown in figures 11A, B, and 12A, B..

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

9. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
